It is otherwise similar to the other authentic Mongolian yurts we sell.

YURT OPTIONS

A lot of our options can be “home made” with our instructions if you are handy. Contact us for advice!

House Wrap: Pre-cut layer of house wrap, a breathing sheet placed between felt insulation and canvas and offer optimal weather resistance, while still allowing the yurt to breathe

Extra door or window: another door or window frame inserted in the circumference. Up to 2 extra windows for 16 to 21' yurts.

Toono finish 1/2: the front half of the toono is finished with Lexan, a high quality Plexiglas. The back half can be covered with the urgh (insulated top flap)

Toono finish 1/1: the full tonoo is covered with Lexan, a high quality Plexiglas. Half of the toono can be manually opened for ventilation.

Clear vinyl urgh: A clear vinyl cover secured with 4 ropes on top of the toono. The cheapest alternative for light and water resistance on the toono.

Mosquito netting on walls: A mosquito mesh covers the yurt's walls so side canvas and covers can be lifted for ventilation in the summer without the annoying flying objects getting in... This option does not include mosquito netting on the toono or doors

Additional felt insulation: this can be sourced for the roof only or for the complete yurt. When ordered with a new yurt, benefit from a 30% discount on the 2nd felt layer.
(show table with top layer or 1/1 layer ; full price and discounts)

Outside cover: outside canvas (425 g/m<sup>2</sup> = 12.5 oz/sqyd) with standard blue ulzii (infinity knot) decoration. These canvas come with a 10 year “at cost warranty” (also included in the yurt's canvas when purchased new).
(show table with full price and discounts)

Fire retardant treatment inside: with Safe-T-Guard approved by most North American authorities.

Inside curtains: a Mongolian must-have, these colored curtains can also add insulation by blocking a layer of air between the walls and curtains. Available in roxyal blue, red, green, yellow and more colors on request
